NamUs UP and MP Training Site Information

For use during these training exercises, the following training site is available to help potential system users acclimate to NamUs UP:

http://training.identifyus.org

Login using the following username and password – this will demonstrate how individuals who have been granted full viewing and full editing privileges can use NamUs UP to enter and view cases:

cm@identifyus.org   pw: test

Note: to observe the differences between individuals granted case entry privileges and those who only have full viewing privileges, login using the following username and password:

le@identifyus.org   pw: test

In addition to the UP Training Site noted above, the following training site is available to help potential system users acclimate to NamUs MP:

http://training.findthemissing.org

For training exercises (e.g., the searching and matching exercise), use one of the usernames and passwords that have been established for each of the following user types:

Law Enforcement (full view & full edit):   le@findthemissing.org   pw: test
Case Manager (full view & full edit):   cm@findthemissing.org   pw: test

NOTE 1:   This is a "training server" and is NOT associated with the REAL system – so don't worry about "breaking" anything.
NOTE 2:   We "clear-out" this system periodically, so don't put anything on here you want to save.
NOTE 3:   Like everything else online – anybody can browse to this site (if they stumble-on the URL) – so don't put sensitive information on this site.
